

Friday November 9th 2007

Views of WITF FM 89.5 Music Director Dick Strawser

That said, an odd twist has brought a 26-year-old baritone David Serero from France to sing roles of Opera's traditional double bill of Cavalleria Rusticana and I Pagliacci . The upcoming Dramatic Baritone David Serero was, apparently, looking for some performance possibility that would get him into the United States so he could make some connections. Apparently he succeeded: he had to miss a rehearsal one night when he went to New York City to sing for Sherrill Milnes. You can read more about him on www.davidserero.com. Who knows? maybe people in Harrisburg and Hanover will be saying one day soon, I heard David Serero before his big break! You can catch him as Tonio in Pagliacci and Alfio in Cavalleria Rusticana tonight and tomorrow night at 8pm,.....

The Sentinel more news for you:

Center Stage Opera will present performances of I Pagliacci and Cavalleria Rusticana. Baritone David Serero of Paris makes his American debut in these performances.